

Prof. Hadi Pajariantio
Universitas Muhammadiyah Palopo
Jenderal Sudirman Street, Palopo City, Province South Sulawesi, Indonesia, 91959
Email: institusi@umpalopo.ac.id

13 June. 2025

Dear Editor

We wish to submit an original research article entitled “The Role of Religious Moderation Ecosystem in Strengthening Tolerance Among Millennial Youth through Religious Literacy” for consideration by International Journal of Law and Society (IJLS). We confirm that this work is original and has not been published elsewhere, nor is it currently under consideration for publication elsewhere. This research employs an exploratory sequential mixed-methods approach, combining qualitative and quantitative methods. The findings indicate that while the religious moderation ecosystem in Indonesia has formed a consistent pattern, further optimization is required, particularly in the aspects of religion, state, and media. Young people are utilizing various resources to enhance their religious literacy, yet their tolerance towards followers of other religions still needs improvement. Quantitatively, the religious ecosystem influences religious literacy and tolerance. Religious literacy mediates the relationship between the religious moderation ecosystem and the tolerance attitudes of young people.

We believe that this manuscript is worthy of publication by International Journal of Law and Society (IJLS) because it fits within the scope of this journal's field.

Please address all correspondence concerning this manuscript to me at: hadipajariantio@umpalopo.ac.id

Thank you for your consideration of this manuscript.

Sincerely,

Hadi Pajariantio